

The Upper Room

The Jerseys

The Upper Room is an end time revival global ministry.
Below is one aspect of their redesigned corporate Identity; the basketball jerseys

The original picture

The edited version
The colour of the jersey have been changed from blue to red. The text has been removed from the original image, superimposing the new image on top of it.

The Edited version
Thee man taken out of the picture and replaced with a black background.

2nd version
There was a collaboration done with one of their team players who a designer. After much discussion, the image with the big basketball was chosen as the focus.